—'Victory Train' To Stop, Briefly— Eisenhower Speaks Here Thursday Night

Welcome Planned For General,
Enroute To Chicago Convention

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will make a speech in Lincoln Thursday night enroute to the Chicago Republican National convention.

He will leave Denver Thursday morning on a special train that will make several stops along the route to pick up Eisenhower delegates and GOP dignitaries in what his campaign managers described as a "new style political victory cavalcade."

And local Republicans plan to beat the drums for Ike when he stops here.

Speak at Capitol

While definite plans have not been made, J. Lee Rankin, Eisenhower's Nebraska campaign manager, said that the general will lead a parade from the train depot to the Capitol, where he will make a brief talk.

There probably will be some placards, banners and bands in the parade and perhaps a "welcome Ike" banner across the streets.

The former NATO commander will speak from the north steps of the Capitol. A loudspeaker will be set up and an alternate place, as yet undetermined, will be selected in case of inclement weather.

Rankin said the general's talk will be an "informal chat."

Val on Tap

Gov. Val Peterson will probably welcome Eisenhower, Rankin said. Peterson also will take the general on a tour of some of the state offices in the Capitol after the talk, he added.

Plans call for Gov. Peterson to board the special Burlington train here, together with part of the Nebraska delegation and ride on to the convention.

Rankin said he didn't know as yet all the persons who will join the "victory cavalcade."

Many other Eisenhower supporters, including Sen. Fred Senator, have been invited to join the cavalcade at other points.

Here Short Time

The candidate will probably be in Lincoln about an hour and a half, Rankin said.

The train also will make brief stops for rear-platform appearances in McCook and Hastings Thursday.

From Lincoln, the train will go to Ames, Ia., where Eisenhower will participate in a special "We the People" television show Friday evening.

Then it will stop in Boone, Ia., Mrs. Eisenhower's birthplace, and then on to Chicago.

Roundup of Conferences

Taft took the position that a matter of principle is involved—the principle that Texas Democrats must be prevented from "swamping" the minority Republican Party in the state.

Later on, Taft went into a round of conferences with party officials and early arrivals among convention delegates.

Eisenhower is coming to Chicago, too, but not until Saturday.

Delegates and some of the general's other advance agents already are here and reinforcements arrive Tuesday night when Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York makes his appearance. Dewey is flying up from Houston after the close of the annual conference of governors there.

And Jack Porter, leader of pro-Eisenhower forces in Texas, told reporters:

Omahan Is Killed In Tractor Mishap

OMAHA (AP)—Clifton Krueger, 37, Omaha, was killed Monday when the tractor he was driving into a trailer lowboy overturned.

The accident occurred at the rear of Fehrs Tractor and Equipment Co. of which Krueger was an employee.

Harold Jones, a fellow worker, said Krueger was driving the tractor up some planks to the trailer when one of the planks broke.

In using the gas tax fund for the viaduct, the mayor explained, the city would have to put up $5.

New Bishop Due Here In September

Dr. Bascom Watts Of Tulsa Heads New Area

Nebraska's newly-elected Methodist bishop, Dr. H. Bascom Watts of Tulsa, Okla., will arrive in Lincoln early in September, it was announced Monday at the South Central Jurisdiction Conference at Wichita, Kan.

Dr. Watts will assume duties as the first bishop of the new Nebraska Episcopal Area, created at the General Methodist Conference at San Francisco in April. Nebraska and Kansas had formerly been included in a single area.

Dr. Watts, who had served as chairman of the Jurisdiction Council, was elected on the seventh ballot. Earlier ballots had included Dr. James Chubb of Grand Island, who led in the first two votes, and Dr. Thomas Williams of Wichita.

For the past two years Dr. Watts has been district superintendent at Tulsa, Okla. From 1939 to 1950, he served as pastor of Tulsa's Boston Avenue Methodist Church.

Born at Yellville, Ark., Dr. Watts received his B.D. degree from Southern Methodist University at Dallas, and his D.D. degree from Southwestern University at Georgetown, Tex. He was ordained a deacon in 1916, became an elder in 1918, and has since served parishes at Austin, San Antonio, and Little Rock, Ark. Dr. Watts has a son and a son-in-law in the Methodist ministry in Texas.

A trustee of Southern Methodist University, Dr. Watts has been a delegate to many of the general and jurisdiction conferences of the church.

With Nebraska now a separate area, there are seven Episcopal Areas and seven bishops in the South Central Jurisdiction, which includes Kansas, Nebraska, Arkansas, Missouri, Louisiana, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas.

Nebraska has a Methodist membership of 117,600, and its 460 pulpits are filled by 350 ministers.

Nebraskans Split Their Votes On Price Supports

WASHINGTON (P)—Nebraska congressmen split their votes Monday when the House voted 207 to 121 to continue through 1955 present price supports and parity formulas for cotton, wheat, corn, peanuts, rice and tobacco.

Reps. Harrison and Miller voted for the measure, Rep. Buffet against it. Rep. Curtis was not listed as voting.

All are Republicans.

Lincoln Boy Hurt On Western Ranch

Five-year-old Robert Fensler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Fensler, 1315 So. 27th, was still in critical condition at an Akron, Colo., hospital after a fall Saturday morning in which his skull was fractured.

The child, who had just gone to Eastern Colorado with his mother for a visit with relatives on a ranch near Otis, fell from the front end of a mobile cattle-chute being pulled by a car.

According to the boy's grandfather, Max Fensler, also of 1315 So. 27th, Robert and a small cousin were playing around the halted chute. The unknowing driver pulled away while Robert was on the chute.

Latest word received by the grandfather was that the youngster would have to remain in the hospital for at least a week to see if it would be possible to move him in case there is need for an operation.

Dawes Dairy Herd Scored Top Butterfat Producer For May

The Dawes County Dairy Herd Improvement Association with headquarters at Chadron was the top butterfat producer per cow during May, according to records compiled by University of Nebraska extension dairymen.

The association supervised by John Dieni had 40 head of cows which averaged 40.7 pounds of butterfat for the month. Butterfat has a son and a son-in-law in the Methodist ministry in Texas.

Wheat Supplies For 1952-1953 May Set Record

WASHINGTON (P)—The Agriculture Department said Monday production prospects indicate wheat supplies for the 1952-53 marketing year probably will slightly exceed the record of 1,601,000,000 bushels of 10 years ago.

Total wheat supplies now are estimated at about 1,606,000,000 bushels.

In view of this, the report said prices are expected to continue below those of a year ago.

The quantities of wheat to be placed under loan this year are expected to establish a new high record—substantially exceeding the all time record of 408 million bushels in 1942.

The report said the estimated supply of 1,606,000,000 bushels probably will include an estimated carryover of about 250 million bushels—about double that of last year—a crop of 1,326,000,000 bushels and probable imports of 30 million bushels. The imports will be used for feed purposes only.

Domestic disappearance for 1952-53, the report said, is estimated at about 735 million bushels compared with 715 million in 1951-52. Civilian and military use, including use by U. S. territories, is expected to be about 505 million bushels, slightly more than in the 1951-52 period. Feed use may be about 140 million bushels, with 88 million for seed and two million for alcohol.

Avert Radio Strike

CHICAGO (P)—Representatives of two radio networks and their Chicago news writers and program builders reached agreement Monday on a new contract, thus averting a strike threatened for today.

CIO Meets Companies In Secret

Hope Seen For Quick Signing Of Contract

PITTSBURGH (P)—Leaders of the striking CIO United Steel Workers huddled in secret Monday with several steel companies they hope to sign to strike-ending contracts within hours.

The identities of the firms and even the number conferring with the union in Pittsburgh, however, is a closely guarded secret.

USW President Philip Murray has said several times the larger steel companies would bring pressure on their smaller brothers in the industry to join them in holding out for contracts which do not call for a union shop.

Some of the smaller companies are willing to go along with the recommendations of the Wage Stabilization Board and grant a union shop—making union membership a condition of employment.

Many Small Firms Sign

So far, more than 30 smaller steel firms have signed up reducing the number of USW strikers by 50,000—less than 600,000 for the first time since the strike began June 2. Since few of the companies produce raw steel, the new contracts add little to the nation's steel capacity during the nationwide walkout.

Idleness among workers in steel-using industries is spreading further across the land with more than 250,000 already furloughed.

Pledge Of Help For Freedom Given Austria

VIENNA, Austria (P)—U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson gave to Austria a pledge from President Truman Monday that the United States would do everything within its power to restore "final freedom" to this occupied country.

He promised that American troops will stay here as long as the Russians, whom he blamed for blocking the independence of this Central European outpost astride the Iron Curtain.

After a visit with Dr. Theodor Koerner, Austria's aged socialist President, Acheson told a news conference:

"Soviet refusal to accept any sort of treaty is due to the fact that the Russians do not want any sort of a treaty, which means that occupation is something they regard to their interest."

Acheson is making a two-day visit to Austria which is still occupied by American, British, French and Russian troops seven years after the war.

The request to the International Joint Commission to approve the full approval of President Truman. He has repeatedly—and mainly—asked Congress to approve legislation for joint construction of the seaway and power project by this country and Canada.

The senate only two weeks ago rejected this legislation on a 43 to 40 vote.

The request to the International Joint Commission to approve the power project is designed to open the way to New York State to join the Canadian government in financing it. The power project site is at the foot of Barnhart Island near Carwall, Ontario, and Massena, N. Y.

Construction experts have said the gigantic power development may cost up to 450 million dollars and take up to six years to complete.

Rhee May Carry His Assembly Feud To Korean People

PEKING, Korea (Tuesday).—President Syngman Rhee may take his feud with the National Assembly to the Korean people by a vote which the United Nations would be asked to observe, informed sources said today.

The informants reported Rhee planned to ask the Koreans to say by secret ballot whether they want him to dissolve the National Assembly and call an election of new assemblymen.

This could not be confirmed among intimates of the 77-year-old president.

Informants said the secret referendum was the "decisive measure" which Rhee told the Assembly in a message Monday he planned to take unless they approved his constitutional amendment for popular election of the Korean president. The Assembly now elects the president.

'States May Lose Their Purpose,' Val Warns Governors

HOUSTON, Texas—(Special to The Star)—Nebraska's Gov. Val Peterson told the Governor's Conference in Houston, Tex., Monday that unless the trend toward increasing federal control over states is reversed, states may "lose much of their purpose."

Three factors, he said, aid this trend: (1) the supreme Court's doctrine of implied powers; (2) the grant-in-aid and (3) modern developments in a strong central government desirable.

The Red's no quarrel, he said, with increased federal control due to social development. But states lost much sovereignty when "they took their first dollar of federal aid."

The process of federal tax collection and redistribution back to states, he charged, results in an "inevitable" shrinkage of 10 to 30 per cent.

Peterson is chairman of the 1952 Governor's Conference.

Vengeful Wife Charges Mate Fathered Triplets With Another Woman

NEW YORK (P)—An angry, vengeful mother Monday formally accused her estranged husband of fathering triplets in adultery with another woman.

"I'm going to make him pay for all this," promised Mrs. Mary Cosaluzzo Scarnati as she swore at her husband, Salvatore Scarnati. Both are 27.

As for the triplets' mother, 100-pound Helen Meginey, 28, Mrs. Scarnati said:

"It's her fault. She liked the guy like I liked him. I am suffering—let her suffer too."

Scarnati, who is to answer adultery complaint later, fathered triplet girls born Friday to Miss Meginey, who also went under the name Scarnati. She said she bore him another child earlier.

The adultery warrant accused Scarnati, a garage attendant, of fathering four children by Miss Meginey.

Meginey refused to talk to a reporter about the muddle.

Simultaneously they hit three other points along a four and a half mile stretch of the Ridge.

Allied troops fought back with heavy artillery and mortar barrages and the Reds broke off their assault before midnight. The Reds never got close enough for hand-to-hand combat.

Heavy rains bogged down the fighting on the Western front.

Truce Parley Resumes After 3-Day Recess

(From Press Dispatches)

MUNSAN (Tuesday) (P)—Korean truce delegates met for 29 minutes today after a three-day recess called by the Allies to gain a breathing spell from Red propaganda.

Following the meeting the familiar announcement was made that the conference will reconvene tomorrow morning at the suggestion of the Communists.

The Reds were in angry debate with the United Nations delegates over the prisoner exchange issue when the walkout came. The Communists hotly protested this third recess within a month called by the Allies.

There was one development during the recess. Through liaison officers, the Red delegation sent regrets that a Communist shell had been fired early Friday into the neutral area, it landed 20 feet from the conference tent at Panmunjom. This was before the delegates arrived.

United Nations forces fought off the Communist assault.

The Red attack on Heartbreak Ridge scene of bitter fighting last fall, switched the Communists' emphasis from the Western front where heavy action had raged in the Chorwon Hills area.

An Eighth Army staff officer said the North Koreans pounds Heartbreak with a 1,300-round artillery and mortar barrage and then assaulted the east slope at 9 p.m.

GOP Convention To Leave Ship Of State Rudderless

Won't Have P. H. Mathews Resigns As Tax Commissioner; Plans To Retire

By ARCH DONOVAN
(Star Staff Writer)

The plight of the state of Nebraska during the national Republican convention was causing considerable comment and discussion at the State House Monday.

Gov. Val Peterson has announced that he will attend and Lt. Gov. Charles Warner is a delegate. The convention opens July 26.

Under the state Constitution, the speaker of the Legislature would be the next in line as acting governor, but the Legislature has no speaker since the resignation of Sen. Ed Hoyt to become deputy director of the Department of Agriculture.

Under rules of the Legislature, the chairman of the Judicial Committee acts in the absence of a speaker, but the committee has no chairman since the resignation of Sen. Jack McKnight of Auburn.

No Administrative Head

Thus, it is pointed out, during the absence of the governor and lieutenant governor at the convention the "ship of state" will be rudderless. Even the host of admirals in the Nebraska Navy could not steer a straight course without a rudder.

During the absence of the governor this week at the Governors' Conference at Houston, Tex., Lt. Gov. Warner is available to serve. However, with the absence of Mrs. Marie Krumwiede, 26-year-old administrative assistant, who accompanied him to the convention, the office was without an administrative head.

Mrs. Krumwiede recently assumed the combined jobs of secretary to the governor and administrative assistant at a salary expected to be $5,900 a year with the promotion of Paul Wagner, administrative assistant to budget director.

Leggett To Pinch Hit

Maj. Lee Leggett, former secretary to the governor who is now on active duty assigned to State Selective Service headquarters, has been called upon to "pinch hit" during the absence from the state of the governor, Wagner and Mrs. Krumwiede.

Sen. Earl Lee of Fremont commented that during his term as speaker of the Legislature he had never been called upon to act as governor even during absences of both the governor and lieutenant.

"The situation could be serious even with the speed of modern transportation," Sen. Lee acknowledged as he launched forth on his favorite theme. "What we need is a constitutional convention to correct weaknesses such as the present provisions. Possibly the chief justice of the Supreme Court should be in the line of succession to act as governor."

Thirty-two years of taking in tax payments for the city will end July 26, for Tax Commissioner P. H. Mathews, who announced his resignation at Monday's Council meeting.

As official assessor of the city's property, the 80-year-old Mathews placed valuations and directed the collections on taxes for more than 35,000 pieces of property in Lincoln. During his term as commissioner he also supervised the entries in the city's tax books of Bethany, College View, Havrelock, and other smaller additions.

No successor was named Monday. Theo Berg, finance director, indicated that someone in the city assessor's office will be given the job. William A. Schlaebitz, presently Mathew's deputy and formerly deputy city treasurer, has received prominent mention as the likely successor.

Mathews, who lives at 840 So. 36th, announced he will continue to live in Lincoln following a six-month vacation in California.

In a reflection on his work over the past 20 years, Mathews observed that property valuations in Lincoln have nearly doubled. When he first took the job as commissioner, records were kept in ledger books that in 1942 gave way to the present system of card files, a plan devised by Berg.

Mathews, still philosophical about his work, said in his resign-nation that even though "in the eyes of many it would seem an unpleasant task to assess property value," he had enjoyed every minute of it.

Old Boeing Route Anniversary Is Observed Here

Lincoln is one of 12 cities on the original route of Boeing Air Transport, between Chicago and San Francisco, which Tuesday is observing 25 years of air transportation between those cities.

John A. Mitchell, United Air Lines station manager in Lincoln, said Boeing—one of United's predecessor companies—began scheduled operations July 1, 1927.

In that year, he said, Boeing carried 445 passengers during its first six months of operation. Now, Mitchell added, United Air Lines flies four times as many over the same route in a single day.

The estimated total for the route over the past 25 years is more than 5½ million passengers.

Mitchell said Boeing's 105-mile-an-hour single-engined planes took mail and two passengers from San Francisco to Chicago in 20 hours in 1927. Today, United's four-engined DC-6 Mainliners carry 52 to 58 passengers plus 5,000 pounds of air mail, express and freight over the same route in less than seven hours.

Dr. Yungblut Injured On Utah Roller Coaster

Dr. Donald C. Yungblut, 3034 Walnut Ct., Lincoln dentist, was injured while riding a roller coaster in Salt Lake City Friday, according to Dr. Yungblut's sister, Mrs. I. C. Williams, 1624 M.

Mrs. Williams said Dr. Yungblut apparently wrenched his back and is unable to use his legs. Dr. and Mrs. Yungblut and a daughter attended a daughter of the Nile Supreme convention in Portland June 8, and had stopped in Salt Lake City on the return trip to Lincoln.

According to Mrs. Williams, the Yungblut family is expected in Lincoln Tuesday. She said a bed has been made for Dr. Yungblut in the family car.

Won't Have P. H. Mathews Resigns As Tax Commissioner; Plans To Retire

By ARCH DONOVAN
(Star Staff Writer)

The plight of the state of Nebraska during the national Republican convention was causing considerable comment and discussion at the State House Monday.

Gov. Val Peterson has announced that he will attend and Lt. Gov. Charles Warner is a delegate. The convention opens July 26.

Under the state Constitution, the speaker of the Legislature would be the next in line as acting governor, but the Legislature has no speaker since the resignation of Sen. Ed Hoyt to become deputy director of the Department of Agriculture.

Under rules of the Legislature, the chairman of the Judicial Committee acts in the absence of a speaker, but the committee has no chairman since the resignation of Sen. Jack McKnight of Auburn.

No Administrative Head

Thus, it is pointed out, during the absence of the governor and lieutenant governor at the convention the "ship of state" will be rudderless. Even the host of admirals in the Nebraska Navy could not steer a straight course without a rudder.

During the absence of the governor this week at the Governors' Conference at Houston, Tex., Lt. Gov. Warner is available to serve. However, with the absence of Mrs. Marie Krumwiede, 26-year-old administrative assistant, who accompanied him to the convention, the office was without an administrative head.

A Case Of Unrefined Cruelty

Perhaps the most amazing chapter in the Lattimore story is contained in the report out of Washington that the FBI has uncovered evidence that Far Eastern Expert Lattimore was falsely accused of planning a trip behind the Iron Curtain.

It isn't popular among large groups in this country to say a kind word about Mr. Lattimore. Ever since Sen. Joe McCarthy took out after Lattimore in a series of unsupported charges, the finger of suspicion has been pointed at him. The State Department itself had placed enough credence in the false report to issue an unusual order barring Lattimore from leaving the country. Now FBI findings have led to cancellation of the order and an apology to Mr. Lattimore. The Washington Post, a responsible newspaper, contributed the added information that the false accusation against Lattimore was made by an informant of the Central Intelligence Agency, possibly acting in good faith, but if the FBI is right, then lacking in good judgment.

This stuff adds up to unrefined cruelty, and in this instance, granting that there was little time, the State Department itself seems to have blundered in issuing the order upon such flimsy evidence. But the episode is part and parcel of what has been going on in this country, disturbing to all thoughtful people, a type of witch-hunt destructive of freedom and intolerable. What we have is not justice but injustice, not precaution but persecution. It is pretty sad.

We talk of freedom, all of us. We express our devotion to it. Man's greatest safeguard in the enjoyment of his freedom is that innocence is not only accepted but respected until guilt is established beyond reasonable doubt. Within recent years we have drifted far away from this established American principle. In the war on Communism, we seem to be willing to think the worst of any individual instead of according to him the presumption of innocence of any wrongdoing until proven guilty.

The latest Lattimore episode came to public attention only a few days in advance of a very special day Americans celebrate. All of our conceptions of individual liberty go back to it. The apology to Mr. Lattimore could hardly be satisfactory to him. He has had to accept a lot of inconvenience, humiliation, and suffering because of the attacks made upon him. On the glorious Fourth when we talk about the glory of the individual, we must think a little about this astounding development in the Lattimore case.

We are sure that no American proposes any disloyal element or elements within the nation's ranks should go unpunished. We are equally sure that the great mass of citizens want the individual protected until proof in the hands of responsible authorities establishes his guilt. The story of the cancellation of Lattimore's rights to leave the United States had great promise in the headlines and the news columns, a fact for which the newspapers are responsible. The second story that Lattimore had been accused falsely of planning to leave on a trip behind the Iron Curtain commanded far less space and attention. For every ten persons who saw the first story, there may have been one who saw the second.

One matter to which a new Congress wisely could give attention is to consider strengthening the individual citizen against false accusation. The campaign will be over and the atmosphere should be clear of a lot of dust. That is the time when thought should be given to weeding out some of the unfortunate practices that have rooted themselves in this country. Specifically the individual needs protection from irresponsibility, recklessness and—in some cases—something worse.

A Ghost Walks Again

A ghost is walking the political paths of America once again, but no one seems to be very frightened by it. It is a transparent ghost, one which had never fooled many individuals and one which, it was thought, had been laid to rest four years ago.

The ghost is the Progressive party, which is making rumblings these days as a sign that it is ready for presidential combat. Gone is the leader, Henry Wallace, who was supposed to lead the New Army to the White House in 1948—or, at worst, to keep Harry Truman from getting there. Wallace, duped as few presidential candidates have been, refused to peer behind the curtain to see what was happening in 1948, and it wasn't until June, 1950, when the North Korean army swept across the border to attack their brothers to the south that Wallace opened his eyes and took a long, hard look at the apparatus of which he had been a main cog.

The machine that was the Progressive party has been stripped to the core, revealing that the energy and the oil, the drive and the bearings were those of the Communist party of the United States—and possibly that of Soviet Russia. There was a large number of wide-eyed, naive idealists who joined the movement—Wallace was hardly the only prominent person who fell under the Progressive party spell—and there was also, unfortunately, a strong contingent of young men and women who had not been through the mill and could not be expected to detect the undertones which were always audible while the melody was being played in party headquarters.

Wallace, disillusioned and with burned fingers, has renounced his connection with the party. Others, by the hundreds of thousands, have also departed, unable to stomach the unswerving devotion of the party to the Communist party line. But there still are those who remain. Its secretary, C. B. Baldwin, the right arm of Wallace during the 1948 campaign, maintains that the party will hold a balance of power in several crucial states in November. He also declared that the three-day Progressive party convention opening Friday in Chicago will be "the most important political development of the year."

This merits no more than hoarse laughter. The ghost may be walking again this year, but it is a sickly specter, tottering along uncertainly until it returns, unmourned, to its grave.

The 625-Day Truce Talk

With the Korean War now in its third year and the United Nations adding pressure to bring about an end to the fighting, eyes once again will be on Panmunjom where the truce talks are approaching their first anniversary.

It was on July 10, 1951, that negotiations began at Kaesong in an attempt to end the struggle on the Korean peninsula. In the seemingly endless sessions continuing day after day, patience both in the truce tents and here at home has been sorely tried. The report of "no progress" has become monotonous, and to many, discouraging.

But a look at history books shows that the Korean talks do not compare in length to the negotiations undertaken at Elizabeth, N.J., at the close of the Revolutionary War. Although

DREW PEARSON

GOP Stymies Controls For Political Purposes

WASHINGTON—In Republican cloakrooms on Capitol Hill where they really let their hair down in hot weather, the GOP strategy on price control is discussed something like this:

"If we pass a weak control bill, Truman will veto it. Then if prices rise, we can blame him for having no price controls at all."

"Or, if we pass a weak bill and Truman doesn't veto it, it will be impossible of enforcement and Truman will get the blame for not keeping prices down. So it's heads we win, tails the Democrats lose."

This is a raw way of putting it, but in an election year strategy it is pretty raw indeed. And this rawboned strategy has influenced many GOP Congressmen, despite the following none-too-happy factors on the economic horizon:

1—Prices are now at an all-time high.

2—The dumping of a large amount of government securities on the market will certainly lead to more inflation.

3—Business is experiencing a new upturn after being in the semi-doldrums for some time.

4—Defense orders, which haven't been placed in nearly as large volume as the Pentagon would have you believe, are now reaching a peak. This is where controls create the greatest national saving.

NOTE—Though Republicans may be to blame for the present stymie on controls, the administration wasted priceless time immediately after the Korean War started when it did not take advantage of a price control act handed it by Congress.

PAN AMERICAN GRAVY—Certain Congressmen tried to camouflage it, but the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee voted out an airline subsidy bill the other day that was exactly what Pan American Airways had ordered. The effect was the same as if the Congressmen had voted to shift $17 million a year from the taxpayers' pockets to Pan Am's treasury.

The bill had been greased to slip through Congress early in June as the result of a preliminary 16 to 1 vote. However, when this column exposed the amazing backstage wire pulling by the Pan Am lobby, it threw the Committee into an uproar and delayed the bill for a few weeks. The publicity resulted in seven Congressmen switching their votes, but failed to stop the Pan Am subsidy which was adopted by a secret 14 to 8 vote.

Because of the bad publicity the Congressmen took the precaution of doctoring up the bill with amendments so it wouldn't resemble the original bill too closely. But beneath the language, it still means $17 million to Pan American Airways.

The bill pretends to separate air mail pay from government subsidy, but instead of basing mail pay on the cost plus a reasonable profit, the bill pegs the mail carrying charges at an inflated, arbitrary rate. Result is one of the most amazing comments was made by Congressman Beamer, who votes for tremendous economy cuts that have no chance of passing. In answer to the argument that the Pan Am bill would cost the government $29 million extra a year ($17 million going to Pan Am, the rest to other airlines), Beamer snorted: "I don't think $29 million is much of a saving."

No matter how much they try to disguise the fact, the congressmen knew they were voting against the taxpayers and for Pan Am. They may discover in November, however, that the taxpayers have more votes than Pan Am.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Taft Has Supreme Confidence In Taft

CHICAGO — Robert Alphonso Taft on the eve of victory—or defeat—is one small Robert Alphonso with whom the public has become so familiar on several hundred platforms in almost every state in the Union, on innumerable television and radio programs. It is a performance remarkably consistent even to the way in which the long strands of hair are combed up and across the big, bulging bald head in the same pattern.

The analogy is obvious, but history never repeats itself exactly, despite the old saying. Even if the prisoner muddle were to be ironed out at Panmunjom, it is probable that some other block would be thrown in the way. The Communists understand military defeat, just as Cornwallis moved for peace when his forces were decimated.

Ironically, one of the factors delaying conclusion of a truce in that early war was a disagreement about what was to be done with released prisoners. When this thorny problem was settled, it was only a short time later that a truce was concluded.

The analogy is obvious, but history never repeats itself exactly, despite the old saying. Even if the prisoner muddle were to be ironed out at Panmunjom, it is probable that some other block would be thrown in the way. The Communists understand military defeat, just as Cornwallis moved for peace when his forces were decimated.

When members of the audience wear polarized spectacles, it is said, there will be a sight-sensation of depth—a third dimension.

All this sounds intriguing, but there could not be a point which a member of the staff could not understand. Why, he wondered, did Obeler choose to make a film like "Bwana Devil" when Betty Grable is a subject simply crying for third-dimensional photography.

Taxpayers Not Eligible

The first "world tournament of fasting fakirs" is scheduled for Buenos Aires next month, according to a news item.

Two fakirs have entered so far, one of them a gentleman who claims the world record for having gone without food for 57 days, another who claims he could fast for 57 days any time he really wanted to.

The contestants, according to advance publicity, will be sealed in glass during the competition. This might be a precaution against participants in the hunger derby sneaking out for a quick sandwich and cup of coffee, like office girls at 10 a.m.

Spectators, it can safely be assumed, will not be encouraged to bring picnic lunches.

Dropping The 'W'

From here on out, W. Averell Harriman wants to be known simply as Averell Harriman. The "W" stands for William, but the Democratic presidential hopeful apparently believes the initial makes him sound too formal. This is a decision which sounds like it was made in one of those political smoke-filled rooms, with strategists pointing out the advantages of campaigning without an initial before the candidate's name.

Garden Glances With The Moon

"When men are rightly occupied, their amusement grows out of their work—as the color-petals out of a fruitful flower."

—John Ruskin

Today the moon is in the movable, airy and fruitful sign, Libra, in the second lunar quarter. Tonight at 11:21 p.m. it will enter the fixed, watery and exceedingly fruitful sign, Scorpio. Then early the morning of the Fourth, it will enter the flexed, fiery and barren sign, Sagittarius. Sunday morning at 5:58 it will enter the movable, earthy and semi-fruity sign, Capricorn, and early Monday morning, third lunar quarter will begin. So much for the moon's signs. Use them as you choose.

I know what I should be about, but there seems to be so much of it. What? Pulling out field daisies and many another plant that has run rampant through our gardens these last weeks. They've given us their bloom and beauty and now setting seeds. And you know how prolific daisies are—they need disciplining. So do hardy phlox, or soon you'll have a garden filled with the common "magenta" one. But you know how I am—I just have to let the plants grow to see if their blooms will be unusual. There is the chance there'll be a different one, and what a joy! But what a lot of work, pulling the unwanted ones when they're grown to maturity!

Our picture today — Clematis Ramona, my very favorite clematis, I do believe. And when grown with Crimson King, what a pleasing color combination against a white house or garage. Jackmanni, too, holds my favor and many another person's. Its deep purple blooms lend elegance to many a porch and trellis. At 334 South Street are two excellent examples of Clematis Jackmanni on trellises against a stone house that boasts awnings of chartreuse. This is "high color combination"—very ultra, ultra from a decorative point of view and I like it. Ping! Off comes the bottom of the jug and there's a "bell-jar," complete with handle. This year I'm growing African violet leaves in a protected spot—by that I mean shady, with sunlight only filtering through the trees of a morning—under a bell-jar in equal parts of sand and peat moss. Which reminds me — the Lincoln African Violet Society meets tonight at 7:30, board rooms of the National Bank of Commerce.

Are you planning a trip east that will take you on Highway 6 through Cleveland? July 7 and

July 8 the North American Lily Society will have its annual convention at Higbee Auditorium in Cleveland.

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I wish to take this means of expressing my appreciation for the fine coverage (The Lincoln Star, Saturday, June 28) given by my daughter upon her arrival from Europe, and also for the sympathy shown by our many friends and the consideration and fine thing done by the Seventh Day Adventist Church. now have far too many, is a demagogue. An honest politician is a statesman. Under the direct primary pressure and newspaper ballyhoo, demagogues come to the top all too frequently.

Eisenhower, a professionally trained military man, is being promoted for President by the old Bull Moose element of the Republican party. Today that element fits in with the New Deal element of the Democratic party. Under this political logic, Taft, one of our best-trained statesmen, should be made general of the armies and an Army man, President.

The Constitution and our republic are in the throes of a death struggle to survive. It cannot be saved by someone who knows little or nothing about our system of government.

The blood program is one in which almost every citizen can participate and thus becomes a vital link in our defense program. Whole blood must be shipped to our fighting men every day, and plasma must be stockpiled for defense. We do not make a quota just once a month and forget about it. We have a quota each and every month, year in and year out.

The blood program has just finished 14 months of operation in Lancaster County. We are grateful to the 3,300 donors that have helped make the program a success. Many more blood donors are needed for the months which are ahead. As many Americans, it is taken for granted that someone else will do the job. How many of us accept what heritage we have in America without once thinking how we can add to that heritage? The Red Cross blood program is giving Americans an opportunity to give their blood so that this country can save many of its wounded fighting men. It is also stockpiling this plasma for an atomic attack. Blood and not bullets may well determine which country will survive an atomic attack.

The blood program has just begun each month to help obtain donors. It is amazing the excuses received such as "Busy," "No, thank you," "Someday," etc. It gets almost discouraging. Then suddenly up pops an American, a true American, one who appreciates his freedom, one who wants to help preserve his country and he says, "Call me every two months."

You thank so much for your patriotic spirit. Help us instill that spirit in the many thousands of potential blood donors in Lincoln and Lancaster County.

First Box Car Shortage Report Comes From Trenton

Hail Losses Heavy For Some Areas

The first complaint on shortage of box cars during the 1952 Nebraska wheat harvest season has been received by the state railway commission from Trenton, Harry King said Monday.

One elevator at Trenton is plugged with grain that is unable to be moved, King declared.

He added that it would be surprising if no shortage of cars exists during the Nebraska harvest. "There has been one every year since 1944 that I know of," he asserted.

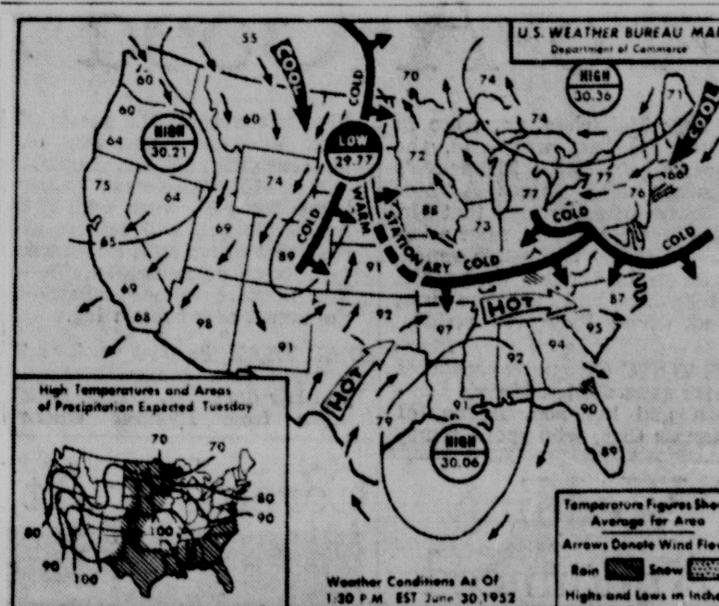

Meanwhile, harvest activity in the state gained momentum after getting off to a crawling start last week between the wind, hail and occasional flooding.

The extent of hail losses from nearly two weeks of temperamental weather may become known when the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics in Lincoln releases its weekly crop report.

Although the hail storms have been spotted, some have covered sizable areas and observers are reckoning that acreage hit is in the tens of thousands and crop losses may run into the millions.

Despite this, the crop outlook had been so superb that losses could be high and still leave a record-breaking crop.

Incomplete hail reports issued at Alliance by the Box Bu-

COOLER—Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms are expected Tuesday in the south Atlantic states, the lower Mississippi Valley, the plains states and the upper Mississippi Valley. Fair weather will prevail in the rest of the country. It will continue hot in the south Atlantic states. It will be warmer in the northwest quadrant and cooler in the central plains. There will be little temperature change elsewhere. (AP Wirephoto Map Monday Night.)

County office of the Production and Marketing Administration showed approximately 7,000 to 10,000 acres of top grade wheat have been hit by hail in Box Butte County alone.

The figures released ranged from 20 to 100 per cent hail-outs. The North Platte valley was battered twice in a 10-day hail period. The first storm, a week ago Sunday night, hit between Scottsbluff and Mitchell. Another followed Tuesday, this time near Gering.

In the Sidney area, the state's top wheat-producing region, hail and winds pounded the almost ripe grain fields hard. Early reports said damage might reach $3,000,000.

Hessian Fly Damage

The report said also there were indications of considerable Hessian fly activity in most of the wheat belt, and army cut worms had been observed in many western areas.

Harvest in the Alliance region was expected to get under way within three weeks, given good weather.

At Beaver City, the harvest has hit its peak and there were dozens of trucks loaded with grain lined up at the Edwards-Kelly Grain Elevator.

Elevator Manager Oris Kohn said the quality of the wheat was high, testing around 60 pounds.

High Yield Grain

The first load of wheat taken to Central City was marketed by Ellsworth Reeves. It was of unusually high quality with a moisture content of 10.5 per cent.

In Omaha, the president of the Grain Exchange, John Oertel, said grain men aren't expecting an embargo on wheat shipments to Omaha, but they do expect storage space will be scarce during July.

He reported that elevators are saving most of their storage space for the expected flood of Nebraska wheat next month. As a result, they aren't taking little Kansas wheat which has been barred from storage in Kansas City because of a rail embargo there.

Rev. Rueter's Rites Pending; Crash Victim

HEBRON, Neb.—(Lincoln Star Special) — Funeral services are pending for Rev. J. Albin Rueter, 74, of Wilber, who was fatally injured in a two-car crash near Hebron Sunday night.

Rev. Rueter and his wife, who is recovering in a Hebron hospital from injuries received in the collision, were en route to Wilber where Rev. Rueter had a new assignment. The Rueter car was in collision with one driven by Bernard Schumm, 22, a Lawrence, Neb., soldier stationed at Fort Riley. The accident occurred a quarter mile from Hebron at the junction of Highways 81 and 3.

Schumm was unconscious when picked up by an Army airplane at Hebron and flown to Offutt Field hospital at Omaha.

Mrs. Rueter, 55, suffered a broken arm and is in "good" condition at the Hebron hospital.

Besides his wife, Rev. Rueter is survived by six children.

Omahan's Body Is Taken From Lake

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia. (AP)—Donald E. Terry, 21, of Omaha, apparently drowned in Lake Manawa south of here after going to the beach with companions to swim. His body was recovered from about 15 feet of water after rescue crews had searched the area for four hours.

An autopsy was planned to determine whether a heart attack might have been involved.

Witnesses who appeared before the Commission on the Milford license said the tavern was operated in a satisfactory manner.

The Firecracker Month Gets Off To A Good Start

GREETINGS and salutations to the Firecracker month which used to be, to our way of thinking, much more fun than it is now—but then, someone reasons, children have fewer burns, less eye injury, more fingers and such, than in the post-Fourth surveys shown back in the dark ages—Mebbe so, mebbe so—the years make a difference.

Speaking of time making a difference—twenty-four hours can change things as quick as a wink—as far as news is concerned, that is—Twenty-four hours ago, for instance, we didn't know what the most interesting engagement would be announced later this week—Don't think it's particularly a secret, since the friends of this attractive young Kappa and her Phi Gamma fiance have known it for quite some time—or at least thought they did.

DID YOU KNOW that Mrs. Bess Streeter Aldrich underwent surgery at Bryan Memorial hospital about two weeks ago? We are most happy to pass along the news that the popular author is recuperating nicely, and is well on the road to recovery.

MENTION OF Mrs. Aldrich naturally turns our thoughts to the Milton Beechner family—Learned that David Beechner leaves Friday for Bonnie Lake Farm in northern Minn., where he will test his skill as a fisherman—His sister, Dorothy Beechner already is at Camp Lake Hubert, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Beechner, have tentative plans for next week—They may plane to the east coast for a bit of a holiday.

THAT WORD "holiday" brings us face to face with July 4 and some of the plans various and sundry of the populace have made for the day and the week-end.

Hear that Mr. and Mrs. William Stoner, Jr., will be going to their cabin at South Bend for the long, Fourth-of-July week-end, and their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Jack Van Patten and Mr. and Mrs. Lester M. Buckley, Jr.

SOUTH BEND also has beckoned Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cather and a group of their friends for a pre-Fourth celebration at the Cather cabin at South Bend.

In the group that will go to South Bend for a late swim Thursday afternoon and a picnic supper will be, in addition to the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Padberg, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rohrig, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Ramsey and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ptak.

A GROUP OF the hop-scotch crowd will have an inning or two on Friday evening—with their parents they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Kos who will devote the entire evening—fireworks and ice cream.

Anyway the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edgren, Mr. and Mrs. James Critchfield and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cather will merely be in the role of spectators while their small-fry have a big evening.

BUT ON SATURDAY night the tables will be turned—the small-fry will stay home while Mr. and Mrs. Critchfield, Mr. and Mrs. Kos and Mr. and Mrs.

HEARD THAT Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Catlin were down from Omaha the past weekend and that the piece de resistance of their visit was the sixth wedding anniversary on Sunday of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dunker.

UNDERSTAND that Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Levitt (Louise Gold) of Omaha will be returning from a brief holiday in Minnesota just in time to join their son, Tommy, for Fourth of July at the home of Mrs. Levitt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Gold—in case you did not know, Tommy has been the guest of his grandparents during the absence of his parents.

Stevenson Opens Door To Possible Nomination A Crack Wider

Tuesday, July 1, 1952 THE LINCOLN STAR 9

Feels Free To Accept Or Reject Draft

HOUSTON (P)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois opened the door wider Monday to the possibility that he might accept a draft for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Illinois governor, reported to be President Truman's favorite for the nomination, told a news conference he felt himself free to accept or reject a draft movement "in the unlikely event" that it develops.

But he insisted he will not participate "overly or covertly in any movement to draft me," adding: "Without such participation on my part, do not believe that any such draft will develop."

Jacob Arvey, Democratic national committeeman from Illinois, has been working openly for Stevenson's nomination. He is reported to have been in frequent consultation with Paul Fitzpatrick, Democratic state chairman of New York. New York's votes have been lined up behind W. Averell Harriman, the mutual security administrator, who says he is in the race for the nomination to stay.

Ike Backers Have Field Day

Severson's statement shed some new light on the Democratic scramble as Republican governors who are supporting Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for their party's nomination had a field day at this annual conference of state executives.

With the GOP convention opening in Chicago a week from Monday, Govs. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey and Walter Kohler of Wisconsin told their colleagues it isn't going to be easy to defeat the Democrats in November.

Discold and Kohler said they think Eisenhower has a better chance of winning the general election than does his chief opponent for the nomination, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Taft's champions among the governors—heavily outnumbered by Eisenhower adherents—still were to be heard from in news conferences.

Host Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas told reporters that squabbling among Republicans—particularly the battle over Texas' 33 GOP nominating votes—has helped the Democrats' chances of winning in November.

Shivers, an outspoken opponent of President Truman's Civil Rights Program, said he won't support Harriman if the New Yorker is the nominee. Harriman has endorsed a Fair Employment Practice Commission (FEPIC) with powers to enforce its rulings against job discrimination.

Shivers and Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina might have a great deal to say in the future about whether the nomination goes to Stevenson. It is generally believed the Illinois governor's views are acceptable to the Southern contingent of the party, which is threatening to bolt if an out-and-out civil rights supporter is nominated.

TOO MUCH WEIGHT—The Lancaster County Commissioners will be asked to appropriate money for a new bridge to replace this one near Emerald, which collapsed last week under the weight of about 35 tons of road repair equipment. (Star Photo.)

Funds Will Be Asked To Replace Old Bridge Splintered By Road Equipment

An emergency resolution re-is about 60 years old, he said. It was made of light steel with wooden approaches. The county probably will have to make up the difference in construction costs.

The road equipment was only slightly damaged, although it fell to the bed of the creek. It was quickly removed.

June Gas Tax Collection Higher Than Last Year

Gasoline taxes collected in June showed an 11 per cent increase over the amount collected in the same month last year. Elmer Watson, chief of the division of motor fuels, reported.

June collections were $2,477,061 as compared with $2,228,064 last year and $2,270,001 in May of this year. The tax was collected on 49,852,517 gallons.

Refunds granted farmers amounted to $44,928.

Hurts Bring $568

Harry H. Brumgardt, a laborer for Rentor Company, Inc., was awarded $568 for injuries received when he was struck by a board. The accident occurred near Trenton on Aug. 8, 1951. Brumgardt claimed 50 per cent permanent partial disability to a thumb.

The affair will be held near the playground area for the benefit of Mrs. Hazelton's "little relatives," and will begin at noon.

Mrs. Hazelton is extending a general invitation to all her friends and relatives to join her in her nonagenarian celebration.

"Anyone who wants to come out should just bring their food and come," she said.

Special Holiday For City Employees Next Saturday

A special holiday Saturday, July 5, for certain city employees was voted unanimously Monday by the City Council.

Introduced by Councilman Clark Jeary, the holiday will include all city employees except those required by the needs of their department or for special duty.

"Special duty" was interpreted as meaning policemen and water and light employees and others who might be used in case of emergencies.

Pair Lincolnites Retire From CB&Q

Two Lincolnites, whose railroading years total nearly 100, have retired from service with Burlington.

Harry B. Pearson, 400 No. 34th, and William J. Raschke, 136 No. 19th, both took their last rides over the week end as crewmen aboard Burlington trains.

Pearson, 71, who ended 50 years of service, began working with Burlington in 1902 as a fireman in the Lincoln division. He has been an engineer since 1905 and piloted the Denver Zephyr from 1936 to 1940. Recently he has been engineer on the Creston, Ia.-Lincoln run.

Raschke, a brakeman since 1907, began working with Burlington in 1903 as a call boy at Wymore. He was a round house helper from 1905 to 1907 and made his last trip as a brakeman on the Kansas City, via Wymore run.

A diamond engagement ring was reported lost by Miss Claire Riley, 19, of 331 No. 13th, while she was swimming at Municipal Pool. The ring, a solitaire diamond with a white gold band, was probably lost in the grassy sunbathing area south of the pool, she said.

Yanks, Bums Thumped; Both Sox, Giants Press

(From Press Dispatches)

THE New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers, respective leaders in the American and National Leagues, took it on the chin in major league baseball action Monday, and to make matters worse for the lone pacemakers they were being pressed as their chief competitors won their games.

After the Philadelphia Phillies trounced the Bums, 4-0, in an early evening tilt, the New York Giants proceeded to turn in a double-barreled triumph over the Boston Braves, 8-7 and 4-0, to move to within three and a half games of the Flatbush outfit.

It was something of a similar story in the junior circuit. In an afternoon game the Yankees, who Sunday had repulsed a bid by the Washington Senators by taking a double header, caught a tartar in the aspiring Boston Red Sox, who dragged the Bronx Bombers into camp to the tune of 4-3.

The win put the Bosox into a virtual second place tie with the Chicago White Sox, who trounced the Detroit Tigers, 7-2. Both teams were three and a half games away from the Yanks. A half-game further back rode the idle Cleveland Indians and the Senators, who had clipped the Philadelphia A's, 6-2.

In other games in the National loop, the Chicago Cubs held into a poor third by licking the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4, and the St. Louis Cardinals measured the Cincinnati Reds, 7-3.

Not even Alstair Forbes, their killed Scotch fan, could help the Dodgers as Karl Drews shut them out with five hits. It was the second whitewash job against the Dodgers for Drews, who has won only two other games. Karl's battery mate, Smokey Burgess, cooperated by knocking in three of the Phils' runs with a single, double and long fly.

Two home runs by Hank Thompson helped Sal Maglie of the Leo Durocherless Giants stagger to his 11th victory in the opener. Larry Jansen, after a succession of bad performances, cracked a sparkling five-hit shutout in the nightcap.

George Wilson doubled home two runs in the first inning off Boston Starter Vern Bickford, and Jansen knocked in the other two with an eighth-inning single.

Thompson knocked in three runs with his round-trippers in the first and fourth innings and narrowly missed a third in the seventh.

The Red Sox pushed over two runs in the eighth inning to nose out the Yankees. Rookie Dick Gernert started the Boston eighth with a single, took third on a double by Vern Stephens—who also homered in the sixth—and scored on George Kelly's fly. Stephens and Hoot Evers, who was intentionally passed, pulled a double steal, and Vern scored when Yank third -sacker Bobby Brown muffed Ted Lepcio's liner.

The Tigers' erratic fielding and Starter Art Houtteman's wildness aided the White Sox as they shoved across three big runs in the fifth inning.

The Sox got but two singles. But they took quick advantage of three walks by Houtteman, a passed ball and two wild throws by Catcher Bob Swift and Gerry Priddy's bobble of a ground ball.

The Chicagoans, with one previous run in the third inning, took a 4-0 lead.

Detroit countered with its lone run in its half of the fifth when Joe Dobson walked Don Lenhardt with the bases filled.

Catcher Sherman Lollar drilled his eighth homer of the season into the stands in the seventh inning with Hector Rodriguez on base and the Sox capped their scoring with one more run in the eighth.

Make-up Tilt Slated

CHICAGO (AP)—The second game of Sunday's doubleheader between the Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians will be replayed in Comiskey Park as part of a twin-night doubleheader Aug. 5, the White Sox announced Monday.

Referee Joe Zapustas managed to count seven before the bell clanged to end the round. It took two of Pep's helpers to lift him bodily from his corner.

After much frantic relief work, Pep was still wobbly when he came out for the sixth. The former champion was unable to lift his arms as Collins belted him about the head with a merciless two-fisted attack. After 55 seconds of such one-sided action, the referee intervened to deny Collins a clearcut knockout triumph.

Omaha's Chuck Foster Drops Chicago Decision

CHICAGO (AP)—Danny Stipanovich, Pittsburgh welterweight, making his first start since breaking his wrist last February, won an unanimous eight round decision over Chuck Foster of Omaha Monday night at Rainbo Arena.

Stipanovich knocked down Foster with a right cross to the chin for an eight count in the second round and opened a gash over the Omaha batter's left eye in the sixth. Foster, however, finished strong and landed some good rights to the head and body.

Scientists' Hush-Hush Meeting Hints Of Big Atomic Developments

By RENNIE TAYLOR

DENVER (AP)—A secret meeting here of top-notch nuclear physicists and Atomic Energy Commission personnel has given rise to reports Monday of some important new development in the atomic energy picture.

The meeting took place Saturday. Participants included Dr. Enrico Fermi, Dr. Edward Teller and Dr. Harold C. Urey, university of Chicago scientists who played a major part in the development of the first atom bomb, and AEC scientists.

No one would talk to reporters about it, but some of the participants indicated matters of high scientific importance were involved.

The timing also may have been significant. The meeting was held on the eve of a meeting of the American Physical Society here and it followed a series of developments in Washington and elsewhere which brought the hydrogen bomb once more into the headlines.

The developments possible in this series of events:

1. One of the first sessions of the Physical Society meeting was taken up almost solidly with reports of research on tritium, the super-heavy hydrogen considered essential to a successful H-bomb. These reports were not secret but they held little meaning for anyone who does not know something about the secrets related to hydrogen bomb research.

2. The statement of Sen. Mc-

Carthy, chairman of the AEC Advisory Commission. His term, along with those of two other commission members, Dr. James B. Conant, President of Harvard University, and Dr. Lee A. DuBridge, president of the California Institute of Technology, expires Aug. 1.

Also, informants here said, a political factor may be at work in the picture. Dr. Oppenheimer is chairman of the AEC Advisory Commission. His term, along with those of two other commission members, Dr. James B. Conant, President of Harvard University, and Dr. Lee A. DuBridge, president of the California Institute of Technology, expires Aug. 1.

3. The recent White House visit of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, who had charge of the building of the first uranium bomb.

4. New word in Washington that the Russians may be ready to wage real atomic war by 1954.

State Cigaret Tax Raises $19 Million In 5 Years

The state's three cents per package cigarette tax has accounted for $19,388,800 in revenue for the five years of its existence ending June 26, Clay Wright, director of agriculture, announced.

Revenue for the fiscal year 1951-52 amounted to $3,987,007. June collections of $350,089 increased over the $329,828 for May and the $338,359 collected in June last year.

Power Line Application

The Elkhorn Rural Public Power District, Battle Creek, filed application with the State Railway Commission for permission to construct 109 miles of electric transmission line in Antelope, Holt, Madison, Pierce and Wheeler Counties.
